

KATANGA BRACES FOR WAR

—92 Measures Introduced—

Unicam's Pace Slower Than '61

... Introduction Of Bills May Quicken

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The 1963 Legislature is off—but not exactly running. At the conclusion of its first week (4 legislative days), the current Unicameral is functioning at a pace behind that set two years ago by the lengthiest legislative session in history.

When lawmakers quit for the weekend Friday, they had introduced 92 bills compared to the 111 measures thrown into the hopper during the first 4 days of the 1961 session.

That Unicameral went on to consider 737 bills — just two short of a record — in 126 legislative days.

Chances are good that the pace of the current session will be able to move ahead of its predecessor in the coming week. Only 55 additional bills were introduced in the second week of the 1961 session.

Next week's outlook is for morning meetings devoted largely to bill introduction. Standing committees other than the budget unit are expected to begin public hearings the third week of the session.

Bill introduction by individual senators may continue through 20 legislative days, and normally develops into an avalanche the final 3 days. No less than 237 bills were introduced on the 20th day in 1961.

Of the 92 measures already in this year's legislative bucket, 27 of them were tossed there by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff. You may rest assured that he still has a few to go.

Plenty Of Controversy
Early controversy is not lacking what with a bevy of proposals on taxation, including raising taxes on beer and liquor, cigarettes, pari-mutuel betting and the head tax.

Bills are also in to raise the special levy for the University of Nebraska College of Medicine and University Hospital building fund and to review tax-exempt property.

Then, there are bills on public power, traffic safety, soil and water conservation — and a Carpenter measure to bring the state into the wholesale liquor business.

The first week of the 1963 Legislature has provided an auspicious — if not swift-beginning.

Heavy Snow, Glazing Rain Hit West Area

The complex weather storm which developed over Nebraska Friday night brought freezing rain and glazing conditions to produce widespread hazardous driving.

Three inches of heavy, wet snow fell in the Sidney area, and from one to three inches were reported in Norfolk, North Platte, Ogallala and Bridgeport.

The Safety Patrol warned motorists of increasingly treacherous highways across the entire east and central portions of the state Friday night and early Saturday as freezing temperatures turned slush and light snow into a hazardous glaze, especially the extreme southeast.

Roads in the Ainsworth area were reported 90% ice. Other highways were snow-packed and icy in spots, said the Patrol.

The Weather Bureau said that the cold front from the Rockies is expected to dissipate by Saturday morning.

Snow was predicted for the southeast Saturday, with heavy snowfall possible extreme southeast. The cold front is expected to gradually spread to Iowa, carrying with it the persistent fog that has haunted the state since the first of the year.

Saturday's temperatures will bring mid-30 highs in Lincoln and 30 across the rest of the state.

The state high and low temperatures were reported at 37 at Chadron and 23 at Norfolk. Lincoln reported a high of 32 and a 27 low.

The Weather

LINCOLN: Considerable cloudiness, a little light snow Saturday morning. High: mid-30s.

EAST AND CENTRAL NEBRASKA: Heavy snow alert extreme southeast. Partly cloudy north central, mostly cloudy elsewhere Saturday. Snow southeast and extreme south central, possibly becoming heavy extreme southeast. Colder. High 25-32.

U. S. Advisers, Cooks Enter Viet Nam Battle

... CAPTURE 17 COMMIE GUERRILLAS

Tan Hiep, Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. military advisers and their Army cooks plunged into South Viet Nam's jungle war Friday and in a few hours captured 17 Red guerrillas without firing a shot.

Shrugging off the usual non-combatant role, Col. John Paul Vann of El Paso, Tex., scraped a 60-man patrol together Friday morning and sent it off in search of an American major assigned to advise South Vietnamese troops.

The Vietnamese forces had failed to return on schedule at dawn from a hunt for communists slipping away from nearby Ap Bac after a victorious guerrilla ambush Wednesday.

Protect Major
"I'm not trying to fight

these people's war for them," Vann said. "Our sole reason was to protect that major."

The major and the government patrol returned in late morning, after Vann had sent out his own patrol.

The American patrol had automatic weapons but had orders from Vann not to fire unless fired upon. Vann said there was no need to use the weapons.

3½ Hours Later
The patrol left at 10 a.m. and returned with the prisoners 3½ hours later.

Vann called on every American assigned to the Vietnamese 7th Division, except himself and a radio operator, to take part in the operation. He also ordered 10 other American advisers passing through the area in the Mekong River delta to stand by as possible reinforcements.

Soon after their return the Americans quickly reassumed their advisory roles and the cooks went back to their field stoves.

Reinforcements
The government sent in reinforcements in an attempt to crush the guerrillas, whose ambush was one of the worst of the year. The Vietnamese had taken in their 4-year old war.

Three Americans and 65 Vietnamese were killed. Ten Americans and about 100 Vietnamese were wounded.

The government forces claimed they killed 101 communists in the action but American advisers here said 41 bodies had been counted so far.

Captured

Meanwhile, the government forces rounded up 32 Viet Cong prisoners. Previous estimates put communist strength at about 600 men.

By Friday afternoon, it was assumed here that most of the guerrillas had slipped away and many government troops were being withdrawn.

Reports reaching Saigon had been renewed in the Tan Hiep area. Apparently the reports stemmed from a clash 6 miles northwest of here in which two government soldiers were killed and a dozen wounded.

Floods Threaten South Of Britain

London (AP) — Widespread floods threatened the south of Britain Friday as the grim winter of the century began to relent.

Temperatures climbed above freezing point over most of the south and fog added fresh hazards to the millions commuting to and from work.

Weathermen predicted the cold will persist in central and northern districts.

Britain's trains resumed running on something like normal schedules and snowplows reopened the last highways.

Kennedy And Other Leaders Bid Farewell To Sen. Kerr

Oklahoma City (AP) — President Kennedy and other national figures bid a solemn farewell Friday to Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla., one of the administration's most powerful allies.

The President wiped at his eyes during the simple funeral rites. Others wept quietly as the millionaire oilman-senator was described as a giant who used his "massive strength to help build America."

Kerr, 66, died in Washington Tuesday of a heart attack.

Kennedy arrived here from Palm Beach, Fla., in rainy and foggy weather that almost kept his jet plane from landing at nearby Tinker Air Force Base.

Kerr's funeral was held in the First Baptist Church, where he once taught Sunday school. President Kennedy sat in a front center pew with Vice President Lyndon Johnson, Oklahoma Gov. J. Howard Edmondson and other dignitaries.

almost directly in front of the President. Kennedy dabbed at his eyes as Kerr was eulogized by his Baptist pastor, Dr. Herschel H. Hobbs, U.S. Senate Chaplain Frederic Brown Harris and Dr. John W. Raley, chancellor of Oklahoma Baptist University.

Kennedy left the church first when the services ended, and joined the Kerr family in a motorcade to Rose Hill Mausoleum where the body was interred temporarily. Kerr later will be buried in the family plot at Ada, near the log cabin where he was born.

After brief ceremonies lasting only 7 minutes at the mausoleum, Kennedy left for the air base and return flight to Palm Beach.

Hobbs said Kerr came from a humble beginning to head a $200 million oil company and become one of the nation's most powerful men because of his vision, his wisdom, his courage and his faith.

"He dreamed great dreams, and then turned

Tshombe Tells Men To 'Resist Fiercely'

... DEFIES PLEAS BY U.N. AND U.S.

Leopoldville, the Congo (UPI) — Katanga President Moïse Tshombe called on the Katangese Friday to prepare for "total war" against United Nations forces regrouping at Jadotville for a possible final assault on his Kolwezi stronghold.

A Katanga communique broadcast by a Tshombe radio station said the secessionist government had decided to "resist fiercely the barbarous U.N. troops by all means at its disposal." It called on the whole Katangese population to stand by for the call to war.

In issuing the call Tshombe defied a demand by the U.S. State Department to end his secessionist activities and to call off the scorched earth policy he has threatened. His statement said the U.N. and the State Department would be responsible for the destruction that ensues.

In Contact

Another Tshombe communique heard in Brazzaville, across the river from Leopoldville, said he had been in contact with Kasongo Nyembo, a powerful chieftain who has a private army of several hundred men and commands the loyalty of 2,000 warrior tribesmen.

Nyembo fled his headquarters at Kamina last week when U.N. forces overran the town near the big U.N. Kamina Air Base. He has been fiercely pro-Tshombe in the past.

Tshombe's call for "total war" coincided with an announcement by the Belgian-owned Union Minière Mining Company that it had closed all its mining operations in Katanga province including Kolwezi where Tshombe is believed to be operating.

Cause Just

"Our cause is just and we will know final victory," Tshombe told his people. "I shall stay in your midst. If our blood must be shed I am ready to sacrifice my own life for the benefit of our cause, which is also that of all of Africa."

"May God protect Katanga and its people."

Tshombe issued a communique saying he had met with his cabinet to discuss the losses inflicted on U.N. troops when they forged a bridgehead across the Lufira River to capture Jadotville. He said Katangese losses were light.

No Victor

Tshombe said the "war launched by the U.N." will have neither victor nor vanquished" and he warned that "if in its craze for destruction, the U.N. does not fear provoking a second Algerian war it alone will bear the whole responsibility for it."

Vague reports reaching Leopoldville said some U.N. troops had "advanced considerably" beyond Jadotville on the winding 140 road-mile route to Kolwezi but they were believed to be patrol units. A UPI dispatch from Jadotville said the main body halted there to rest and regroup.

Secretary General Thant, in a message to the Belgian government, said the U.N. forces in Katanga exceeded their instructions in taking Jadotville. Thant said he had requested full explanations from U.N. authorities in the Congo and would postpone all action until he received those instructions.

Doubtful

The Jadotville dispatch said it was doubtful they would advance in force until the Lufira River is spanned strongly enough to permit heavy trucks and armor to join them. U.S. Air Force transport planes flew in 5 bridging tanks Friday from the U.S. airbase at Chateauroux in France for spanning the Lufira. Retreating Katangese mercenary troops blew up the road and rail bridge.

There was speculation any U.N. drive in Kolwezi with the possibility of heavy fighting would await the flight here of Undersecretary Ralph Bunche from U.N. headquarters.

ters in New York to check reports local U.N. commanders had exceeded their authority.

In the meantime local commanders imposed an hours-long news blackout in the Jadotville area.

Halt Urged
In Washington the United States urged Tshombe to end his secessionist activities.

Thant, meanwhile, ordered an immediate investigation of the death of two Belgian women shot by U.N. Indian troops Thursday 30 minutes after Jadotville fell. He told Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak that he and the U.N. commander in the Congo "deeply regret this tragic incident."

Informed sources here, taking note of the military news blackout, recalled that the move on Jadotville was executed under a news blackout for the first few hours. The U.N. disclosed the news only after independent news dispatch reached the outside world that the U.N. forces had driven to within 15 miles of the town.

Military Snafu

The capture of Jadotville was believed to be the reason Bunche was flying here. Informed sources said a military snafu led the capture without the approval of Thant.

Shooting of the two Belgian women brought indignant editorials in Brussels newspapers that Thant no longer could control what they called "U.N. mercenaries." Belgian newspapers also were sharply critical of U.S. support of the U.N. Congo operation.

Labor To Try For Minimum Wage Act

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Organized labor will seek passage of legislation this year establishing an intrastate minimum wage act and increasing payments for workmen's compensation and unemployment compensation.

State AFL - CIO President
Richard Nisley of Omaha told The Star Friday that these proposals have been endorsed by the organization's state convention and its executive committee.

All 3 issues were killed by the 1961 session's Labor and Public Welfare Committee.

Labor is also looking to the possibility of requesting amendment of the workmen's compensation act to broaden its coverage for "those who might become contaminated by radiation and fallout," Nisley said.

Relations Act?

No decision has yet been reached on whether to push again for enactment of a state labor relations act, he noted. Efforts to do so were unsuccessful in 1959 and 1961. "My personal feeling is that an intrastate labor relations act makes good sense," Nisley declared.

"It has been recommended by two legislative study committees which saw the need, yet the Unicameral has been reluctant to recognize the need."

"Anytime you improve working conditions, it acts as an inducement to industry to know that we have these standards."

Labor may have 3 or 4 additional legislative requests, Nisley said, but "we won't have as many as last session."

The union leader declined to judge the composition of the newly-assigned Labor and Public Welfare Committee.

Reserves Judgment

"In all fairness, I should reserve judgment," he pointed out.

Organized labor failed to get any of its legislative proposals out of committee in 1961.

Nisley said he was "not disturbed" by the fact that Gov. Frank Morrison failed to mention labor or its problems in his detailed inaugural address.

"This responsibility lies in the hands of labor itself," he declared.

"The governor indicated in his speech that the Legislature is the body which acts on such matters, and it will have an opportunity to do so."

Gunman Robs Store Of Cash

Omaha (AP) — A lone gunman escaped with an undetermined amount of money from a Safeway store at 24th Ave. and St. Mary's in Omaha Friday night.

About two dozen customers were in the store when the bandit entered and ordered clerks Lorraine Menking and Dean Cada to put money from two cash registers in a paper sack. The bandit struck both clerks on the shoulder with his revolver.

Store Manager Steven Gallagher, in a back room at the time, said it was possible the gunman was the same who held up the store 4 weeks ago. The bandit was described as about 5 feet 6 inches tall with a slight build, wearing a stocking mask and a dark jacket.

Hughes Believes 'Boat' Will Fly

PAYS $800
A MONTH TO WORK ON IT

Washington (UPI) — After 20 years, Howard Hughes still thinks he can fly his 700-passenger flying boat — perhaps the most controversial airplane ever built.

The government, which now has title to the $58 million 200-ton craft, said Friday that the multi-millionaire is paying it $800 a month for the privilege of "flying and testing it."

The huge plane was born in the early days of World War II when it was hoped that a fleet of big cargo carriers might be able to beat the German U-boats that were then wrecking allied shipping.

Flew Once

The old Reconstruction Finance Corp. poured $18 million into the plywood colossus, and Hughes another estimated $40 million. It flew once—for one mile over Los Angeles Harbor at a height of 70 feet. That was Nov. 2, 1947.

Shortly before the flight Hughes said he might "consider leaving the country" if the plane failed to get off the water.

The government finally cancelled its agreement with Hughes, but not until the project was the subject of one of the most sensational Senate investigations of the late 1940's.

3 Called Off

At a 1947 hearing before the Senate War Investigations Subcommittee, Hughes displayed such a talent for repartee and barbed statements that the hearing was called off. The next year, the subcommittee chairman the late Sen. Owen Brewster, R-Maine, was defeated in a reelection bid. He had been the chief target of Hughes' sharp tongue.

Since then the monstrous plane has lain in a specially designed and carefully guarded building near the harbor in Long Beach, Calif. Hughes' workmen have tinkered with it secretly through the years.

But it came to public life again Friday when a spokesman for the General Services Administration (GSA) said, in reply to questions, that it had signed the agreement with Hughes last June 2 to let him see what he could do with it.

-DEMOS LEAD- Whiskers Scarce In Congress

Washington (AP) — Pictures in a newly issued pocket directory accurately represent the facial decoration situation, the 88th Congress is a mighty clean-shaven bunch of legislators.

Of the 533 members of the Senate and House, only 22 are pictured with mustaches — and some of those are of so modest a variety that they are barely visible in the small pictures.

Democrats hold a mustache majority wider than their voting margins in both branches. Fourteen House Democrats can boast at least minimal whiskers but only 5 of their Republican colleagues are so decorated.

Sen. Hugh Scott from Pennsylvania barely saves the Republicans from a shutout in the Senate where Sens. Wayne Morse of Oregon and John O. Pastore of Rhode Island give the Democrats a 2-to-1 edge. But none of these senatorial mustaches is of a luxuriance that would have made grandfather proud.

For whatever geographical significance it may have, the whisker-wearers come predominantly from the East and West coastal states which can count 17 of the 22 sets of mustaches. New York and California tie for the state lead at 4 each.

There's not a proper beard in the lot. And only Rep. Daniel J. Flood, a veteran Democrat from Pennsylvania, displays a mustache sufficiently lengthy and neatly waxed so that he might have escaped derision in an earlier era when whiskers were supposed to be abundant or elegant, or both.

Union Man Criticizes Sec. Wirtz

New York (AP) — A restive dock union leader Friday sharply criticized Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz for his conduct of negotiations in the crippling 13-day East and Gulf Coast waterfront strike.

"If he was not a secretary of Labor, we'd walk out of here," declared Thomas (Teddy) Gleason, chief negotiator for the striking International Longshoremen's Association. "It's only the prestige of his office that stops us."

Gleason complained that Wirtz had failed to bring the two sides together in a face-to-face meeting since before the strike began and added: "To me it's a strange way of bargaining. This is not bargaining."

However, Alexander P. Chopin, chairman of the New York Shipping Association and head of the Industry Bargaining Team, defended Wirtz and said:

"I think the Secretary of Labor is performing a great service."

Earlier, Wirtz had recessed negotiations until Saturday to give Harvard Prof. James Healy more time to complete a fact-finding survey of costs involved in union and industry contract proposals.

Norfolk's Mayor Cook Named To Centennial Body

Gov. Frank Morrison Friday appointed Norfolk Mayor Warren Cook to the Nebraska Centennial Commission to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Bob Thomas of Norfolk.

The appointment of Cook, a Republican, brings the Centennial Commission back to its full complement of 10 members following a storm of controversy in November after the governor replaced 3 other members.

Thomas, a Norfolk radio station manager, resigned from the commission in protest over the manner in which Morrison had removed Scottsbluff editor Floyd Wisner, former Gov. Val Peterson of Hastings, and Mrs. Ralph G. Brooks of McCook.

Besides serving as mayor of Norfolk, Cook, 46, is a public relations officer for the National Association of Livestock Auction Markets, and executive director of the Nebraska Livestock Auction Markets Association.

Meeting Set On Guard's Revamping

Washington (UPI) — Army Secretary Cyrus Vance and 7 state governors planned to hold a final bargaining session Saturday on the Army's plan to reorganize the National Guard.

The governors, members of a committee on the National Guard, were headed by S. Ernest Vandiver of Georgia, and included the chief executives of Iowa, Maine, Utah, Missouri, Wyoming and Mississippi. The meeting was set for 9:30 a.m. EST at headquarters of the National Guard Association in Washington. Although they saw little alternative to ultimate approval of the reorganization, the governors hoped to win concessions on these points:

—They seek greater "flexibility" in recruiting to permit the Guard to maintain the 400,000-man strength authorized by Congress. In recent months, the Guard has slipped to a strength of less than 375,000 because recruiting quotas could not be filled.

—Speaking on behalf of the Guard, they want faster and more simultaneous mechanization of the Guard's 23 remaining combat divisions. Four divisions are to be reduced to brigades in the reorganization.

Aliens In State Urged To Tell Address By Jan. 31

Aliens residing in Nebraska and Iowa are urged Friday to file alien address report forms at the nearest Immigration and Naturalization Service Office or local Post Office before Jan. 31.

Robert C. Wilson, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service in Omaha, said that the law requires all non-citizens, except persons in diplomatic status, foreign representatives to certain international organizations, and aliens here temporarily as agricultural contract laborers, to report their address to the government each January.

He stressed that the parent or legal guardian of an alien under 14 years must fill out an address form to comply with the law, and to avoid serious penalties for willful violation.

He estimated that 20,000 such reports will be submitted before Jan. 31 for the states of Nebraska and Iowa.

Stars Pay Tribute To Dick Powell ... 700 ATTEND

Hollywood (AP) — Nearly 700 persons, a veritable who's who of show business, filled All Saints Episcopal Church Friday for final tribute to Dick Powell. The 58-year-old actor-tycoon was eulogized as a man "who made the Ten Commandments a rule of life."

As the brief memorial rites were held in Beverly Hills, Powell's body was being cremated some 20 miles away at Forest Lawn Memorial Park in Glendale.

The Rev. Kermit Castellanos, assistant rector of the church, read aloud the commandments at the request of June Allyson, Powell's widow.

Meant So Much

"They meant so much in Richard's life," Miss Allyson explained.

Dr. Castellanos also said of Powell: "He possessed those qualities that make us sure that heaven will be a greater place because he is there."

Miss Allyson, living with the spectre of death for the last 4 months, was composed throughout the rites.

Musters Smile

As she left the church with her two children by Powell, she mustered a smile for a woman fan who called:

"He will be missed."

Powell died Wednesday night of cancer. His ashes were interred in Forest Lawn's great mausoleum near the vaults of Clark Gable, Carole Lombard and Jean Harlow.

Every seat in the 650-seat church was filled and many were forced to stand. Outside some 300 orderly fans watched the stars enter and leave.

REDS CATCH GERMAN IN ESCAPE BID

Berlin (UPI) — An East German refugee running across the communist "death zone" to try to swim to freedom across the Teltow Canal was seized Friday by an East Berlin police dog and arrested by 5 border guards.

West Berlin police in the American sector watched by the light of 8 bright green flares but were unable to help the man who made his escape attempt at 2 a.m.

The attempt took place in a suburban area on the border of the American sector district of Neukoelln.

The refugee had evaded communist controls behind the border and had reached a cleared space when sighted. The communists had cleared trees from this area to form a "death zone" and use Doberman Pinschers and other big dogs to track down refugees there.

-BUSY DAY- Pope Takes Journey By Trevi Font

Vatican City (UPI) — Pope John XXIII, leaving the Vatican for the second time since he was stricken ill in November, took a sentimental journey today past Rome's famed Trevi Fountain and visited a little church nearby.

The 81-year-old Pontiff made his unexpected trip in a busy day. He told an audience he still has confidence in the world's "men of goodwill" despite the "inexpressible sorrows and worries" he feels at times.

The Pope appeared to be in good health as he walked briskly into the Church of St. Mary in Trivio. He spoke in a loud firm voice and made vigorous gestures with his hands.

The Pontiff's trip marked the feast of St. Gaspar Del Bufalo, whose body lies in the church.

Among those greeting him were the Vatican secretary of state, Amleto Cardinal Cicognani, and the Rev. Herbert Linenberger of Victoria, Kan., moderator general of the Congregation of the Most Precious Blood.

The order, founded by St. Gaspar in 1815, now numbers 900 priests, of whom 600 are in the United States, according to Father Linenberger.

HAROLD T. O'BRIEN

Self-Styled Ladies Man On 'Top 10'

Washington (UPI)—Harold Thomas O'Brien, a gun-carrying self-styled ladies man wanted on a murder charge, has been added to the FBI's list of 10 most wanted criminals.

Described as quick-tempered and extremely dangerous, the 57-year-old O'Brien is sought for the fatal shooting of an acquaintance in a Fox Lake, Ill., tavern in August of 1960.

He is 5 feet, 4 inches tall, and weighs between 165 and 170 pounds. He has blue eyes, light brown hair, and wears horn-rimmed glasses. He is partially bald, the FBI said, and there is a small scar on the left side of his chin and another above his right eyebrow.

When he works, O'Brien has taken jobs as a chauffeur, delivery truck driver, cab driver, and on occasion has worked as a bartender.

Explosion Rattles Hot Springs Joint

Hot Springs, Ark. (AP)—An explosion shook the Vapors night club and gambling casino Friday while a school for croupiers was in session.

Seven persons were treated in a hospital for cuts and bruises and police said several others were shaken by the explosion.

Fire Chief Vern Smith said an odor in the club after the blast smelled like dynamite. He said the fact that the roof over the lobby had been caved in also indicated a dynamite blast.

An employee of the club said maintenance men were working on the roof of the club Thursday. He attributed the explosion to a collection of gas.

Pieces of twisted steel and chunks of concrete were scattered about the lobby. Some debris was blown into the restaurant area.

Several persons were in the gambling casino at the time, attending a school for croupiers. Hot Springs casinos are training their own gambling-table operators to get around a new federal law that prohibits bringing people across state lines for gambling purposes.

The Vapors is one of the resort city's biggest clubs and top names in the entertainment world appear there.

Speeding Indian Mail Train Hits Another; 38 Die

Katihar, India (AP)—A speeding mail train smashed into a passenger train Friday and touched off an explosion and fire, killing 38 persons and injuring 90, railway officials reported.

Aboard the mail train were 142 Indian troops. All escaped injury.

The passenger train was stopped at Umeshnagar station on the Ganges plain. The crash exploded a load of oxygen cylinders in the mail train. Fire broke out and destroyed several cars.

Railway officials said the bodies of 32 persons, including 5 women and a child, have been recovered so far.

'Missionary Aids Asia Most'

By JIM WOODSON
Star Staff Writer

The Christian missionary in southeast Asia is accomplishing more today in the areas of peace and international relations than any other person or agency, Bishop Kenneth W. Copeland said Friday night.

Reporting on the recent trip through southeast Asia he and his wife took at the direction of the Methodist College of Bishops, the Methodist bishop of Nebraska told the more than 200 persons at St. Paul Methodist Church:

"The Christian missionary abroad lives in two worlds—the world from which he came and the world to which he goes . . .

"He is transplanted from a country in which he is a citizen and a member of a majority religion to a country in which he is a foreigner and the others citizens . . . and he is a member of a minority religion."

Hardship, Sacrifice

To meet these new conditions, the bishop continued, the missionary faces many hardships and makes many sacrifices. He said:

"His children must be educated in English-speaking schools . . . this sometimes divides families. He often faces hostility because he's an American. He needs objectivity to accept and absorb this hostility.

"He must be mature, dedicated, patient, thoroughly Christian, sure of his faith, and walking close with the Lord."

Discussing the advance of Methodism in the several cities and areas he and his wife visited, including Tokyo, Hong Kong, Taipei, Singapore, Brunei and North Borneo, the bishop noted:

"Bit by bit, these missionaries are making an effort to train the indigenous people who live in their own countries to become strong religious leaders . . . and their efforts are showing."

Bishop Copeland moved to America's role in world affairs for the brief comment:

"I would suggest America quit asking 'who is my neighbor' and begin asking instead, 'to whom can I be a neighbor?'"

Sec. Freeman Tabs Weaver As Consultant

Washington (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has appointed a retiring Republican congressman from Nebraska, Phil Weaver, as a special consultant.

Weaver will deal with legislative matters and public information programs. His pay will be at the rate of $17,925 a year.

Weaver was defeated last year by Rep. Ralph F. Beermann, Republican, in a bid for re-election. Beermann was later re-elected. Weaver and Beermann had been thrown into the same congressional district under a re-districting law.

Weaver, of Falls City, was one of a very few Republicans in Congress who voted for Kennedy administration farm programs.

A Freeman aide said Weaver may be appointed later to a regular post in the department.

The people of other countries will respect us as we stand firm on what we believe. If we believe in freedom, let's prove it in the way we live. We can prove our attitude by what we do here."

Earlier, Mrs. Copeland opened the program with comments on living conditions in some of the areas they visited and the fascinating people they found. She explained:

"The Japanese have an innate ability to coordinate colors at all times. They have a natural ability to dress right. Also, in Tokyo, anyone who has a spot as large as a bed sheet has a beautiful garden. The people are never rude, no matter how crowded they may be."

Taipei Contrasts

In contrast, she said of the people of Taipei:

"There is not a beautiful city . . . it is depressing and there is much poverty. People all along the street can be seen digging in their gardens trying to find a scrap of food.

"These are people who need help, people with broken hearts. Often the husband is there but the wife is on the mainland."

Following the report, Bishop Copeland called for a special offering to be taken for the purpose of providing visual aid equipment for one of the small churches visited during their trip.

Dr. Dearborn, Ex-Nebraskan, Heads College

Salisbury, N. C. (AP)—Dr. Donald C. Dearborn, 52, a member of the faculty of Catawba College for 28 years, Friday was named president of the institution.

Dr. Dearborn will succeed Dr. A. R. Keppel, Catawba president for 20 years who resigned last year to accept the directorship of the new Piedmont University Center.

Dr. Dearborn, dean of the college, will assume the presidency March 1. He will be the school's 15th president.

Dr. Dearborn is a native of Osceola, Neb. He received his A.B. degree from Hastings College, Hastings, Neb., and his masters degree from the University of Nebraska. He earned his doctorate at Duke University.

During his 28 years at Catawba, Dr. Dearborn has served as registrar, dean of the college and as chairman of the administrative committee, a position dealing with many vital areas of college administration. For the past 15 years he also has been professor of mathematics.

Catawba, founded in 1851, has an enrollment of 1,000 students. The school is affiliated with the United Church of Christ.

Judge Sanctions Barrier Between Negroes, Whites

Atlanta (AP) — A municipal court judge upheld Friday the placement of city-erected barriers between Negro and white residential areas in southwest Atlanta.

Judge Robert E. Jones dismissed a petition brought against the city by a group of Negroes and white persons seeking to have the barriers removed. The suit charged that the barricades were a public nuisance.

The wood- and steel barricades were erected Dec. 18 after Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. and the board of aldermen approved ordinances permitting them.

Jones ruled that the roads ceased to be public streets when the ordinances closing them were approved.

"If it is not a public street then, of course, an obstruction would not be a nuisance," the judge said.

Bauer Candy Firm Switch Is Formalized

The House of Bauer candy manufacturing company at 2440 O formally changed hands this week, according to an announcement by the new company president, Herbert Harrison.

Harrison confirmed that the company, now to be known as the Bauer Fine Chocolats, Inc., was purchased from Raymond Bauer, founder, of the firm for approximately $500,000.

Purchasers include Harrison, Les Rau, who will serve as general manager and vice president, and a third unnamed person.

The firm now employs between 40 and 45 persons and sells its candy products nationally. Present employees will be retained, Harrison said, and plans for future expansion of the business are under consideration.

Frost Is Said To Feel Encouraged

Boston (AP) — Poet Robert Frost, 88, who has come through two complications after surgery, had an excellent night's sleep and feels encouraged, a Peter Bent Brigham Hospital spokesman said Friday.

He was described as keen and appeared to be tolerating his anticoagulants well. He is receiving anticoagulants to reduce blood clotting. He earlier had suffered a heart attack.

Hospital director Dr. F. Lloyd Muscels explained that a blood clot, such as the 4-times Pulitzer Prize winner suffered, is a common complication in aged patients.

Lincoln Store Sales Rise 21%

Kansas City (AP) — Department store sales in the tenth federal reserve district were 26% higher last week than in the same week of 1961.

Nationally, the increase was 33%.

The district's sales for the year ending December 29 were 3% higher than in 1961.

Biggest gainer last week among 10th district cities was St. Joseph with 35%. Albuquerque had a hike of 34% and Joplin 30%.

In other cities, the gains were as follows: Denver 20%, Topeka 9, Wichita 22, Greater Kansas City 28, Lincoln 21, Oklahoma City 23 and Tulsa 22.

Time To Act On Taxes, Says Hanson

Omaha (AP) — State Democratic Chairman Russell Hanson of Newcastle said Friday Nebraska has been studying taxes for 20 years and it is time to act.

Hanson said he will ask the Democratic State Executive Committee to recommend "some sort of action on taxes" to the legislature. The committee meets here Sunday.

The state chairman noted the Democratic platform calls for "broadening the tax base" but doesn't make specific proposals.

The party split will "no doubt be brought up," Hanson said, "but I don't expect any action."

The resignation of Hanson and National Committeeman Bernard J. Boyle has been demanded by a party faction led by National Committeewoman Maurine Biegert of Shickley. Gov. Frank Morrison has lent his support to the Biegert-led move.

Giltner Gazette Publication Ends

Giltner — Publication of the Giltner Gazette has been suspended, according to J. C. Bierbower, publisher for the past 50 years and 7 months.

Bierbower purchased the newspaper in 1912. His wife took over for a number of years while he was a member of the staff of the Nebraska Unemployment Service in Grand Island.

Mrs. Biegert said she plans to attend. Also present will be Boyle.

The Shickley woman said her group has not decided on any further steps in the move against Hanson and Boyle. Still under consideration, she said, is a move to call a special meeting of the State Central Committees aimed at accomplishing that goal.

Motto On Plaque Persuades Husband To Retire

By ROBERT PETERSON

Q. "Last fall someone gave my husband a big plaque that says, 'It's Later Than You Think.' He's got it hanging over the mantle and has become so obsessed with the philosophy that he's decided to sell his insurance business and retire at 53, go on a world tour, and then satisfy a childhood yen to run a greenhouse. We can afford this, but aren't you always saying early retirement is bad?"

A. It's bad if you like what you're doing and if you haven't something more interesting awaiting you in retirement. As your husband seems to have definite and specific plans for spending his time he stands a good chance of enjoying early retirement. More people need to become aware of that oriental maxim which reminds us that life is indeed short. Too many people stay glued to the grindstone until too late and then don't have the time or vitality for the myriad sights, travels and new experiences which beckon.

Q. "I was shocked the other night on television seeing the terrible living conditions in Peru where 90% of the land is owned by two percent of the people. I'm a widow of 55 with time and some extra money. What can I do to correct such situations?"

A. You could take some Spanish lessons and spend a few weeks or months in Peru observing social and economic life there. You could talk with both the rich and the poor and try to discover what Americans can do to help. You could then come back and talk to your congressmen about steps which this country might take to encourage land reforms there. Who knows—you might stumble on a solution which would correct for all-time the gaping social ills of Latin America.

Q. "Before hitting 65 my wife treated me like a king. But since retiring she seems to have changed her attitude. I still pay the rent and buy the groceries, but I'm at home all the day and the way she orders me around you'd think I was the handyman."

A. Many women are accustomed to having the house to themselves during the day and don't take kindly to retired husbands who follow them around the house and disturb fixed patterns of daytime living. Why not set up an office somewhere as a retirement retreat? If you're determined to stay retired, such an office provides a place where you can puff your pipe far from the critical gaze of your wife. Togetherness can be carried too far, and many retired couples find that apartness several hours of the day contributes best to their congeniality.

Q. "When I hit 65 last week I treated myself to touring local art galleries. Treated is hardly the word for I was appalled at the scrawls and kid stuff they are passing off as art these days. What is happening to our standards and why isn't someone doing something about it?"

A. A lot of folks echo your sentiments. But there's one good thing about modern art which isn't often mentioned. This is that it sometimes gives amateurs confidence that they could do as well or better. This has stimulated many to try painting and some have actually launched new careers as artists.

Official Outlines Scientific Aspects Of Agriculture

A. H. Moseman, a Rockefeller Foundation agricultural official, said Friday science is universal and the basic principles in the disciplines related to agriculture are not restricted to political boundaries.

Pafford To Direct Bureau's Region 2

Washington (AP)—Robert J. Pafford Jr., an employee of the Army Engineers at Omaha since 1934, was appointed to be director of the Reclamation Bureau's Region 2 with headquarters at Sacramento, Calif.

Pafford has been supervisory civil engineer in the Missouri River Division office of the Army Engineers at Omaha since 1957.

Moseman, director of agricultural sciences for the foundation and a University of Nebraska graduate, spoke at the concluding session of the Nebraska Experiment Station Conference.

"We have many examples of the mutual benefits from the participation of staff members in your college of agriculture in international projects," he said. "These benefits have accrued to Nebraskans and others across the United States and throughout the world."

He succeeds H. P. (Pat) Dugan, who recently was transferred to Denver as director of Region 7.

A Little Of This, That, About People You Know

More homecomers to mention this morning but the list still is not complete. There will be more to mention as time goes on. In the "futures" file are some travelers, too, and among them is Mrs. Thomas C. Woods who has plans for southern California around about the first of February.

Then, there are those who have chosen the Bahamas for a mid-winter holiday, and we'll tell you about that another day.

The homecomers we had in mind are Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Hawke who returned Thursday night from California.

Mr. and Mrs. Hawke spent three weeks in Santa Barbara, Calif., where they were the guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Don Larson and their two daughters, Lynn and Christian Anne.

The morning mail brought a clipping from a Washington D.C. newspaper with news of a former Lincoln resident, Sam Waugh.

Here is the story: "At the Brazilian Embassy the Brazilian Ambassador, Roberto Campos performed a very pleasant task. He awarded for his government the Order of the Southern Cross, with the rank of Commander, to Samuel Waugh, former president of the Export-Import Bank.

For the Lincoln Junior League it will be business as usual when the group holds a 9 o'clock coffee meeting next Tuesday morning at Hotel Cornhusker.

We hear that the regional conference delegates will present their reports. The latest report concerning John H. Ames, who has been at Mayo's for the past several weeks, is that he is making progress. Mr. Ames, however, will be hospitalized for some time.

Activities In The Service Circles

By TISSIE LINSCHIED
Everything is back to normal at LAFB after the holidays. It is good to get children back to school, husbands back to work and the ladies back to the old routine!

There will be a birthday party this afternoon when Tim Arnold, son of Maj. and Mrs. Henry G. Arnold celebrates his sixth anniversary. Friends of Tim's will gather at his Carswell residence for refreshments and then will progress to a movie in Lincoln. Guests invited for the festivities are David Palmer, Jay Ulrich, Bobby McIntyre, Greg Starck, Mike Denton and Kevin Arnold.

The 343rd Bomb Squadron Officers wives held a coffee Thursday morning in the Green Room of the Officers Club. Mrs. Arthur Norris was the guest speaker for the morning affair and spoke on home beauty hints. Recipients of prizes were Mrs. Walter Nickerson, Mrs. Russell Dalton and Mrs. Arthur Mellor. Hostesses included Mrs. Adam Rech, Mrs. Truman Spangrud and Mrs. Eugene Alley.

A snow man motif was introduced yesterday morning when the 98th Headquarters Squadron ladies held their monthly coffee. Hostesses for the affair that was held in the Terrace Room at the O Club were Mrs. Donald Meade, Mrs. Richard Schiebel and Mrs. Barbara Johnson.

Capt. and Mrs. Stanley W. States are leaving tomorrow for Colorado Springs, Colo., where they will spend a week visiting the Captain's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. States. While in Colorado they also will visit Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Burns in Greeley.

Capt. and Mrs. Arnold Austin and their two children just returned from a ten day leave spent in El Paso, Tex. The Christmas holiday was spent with Mrs. Austin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Black. They also traveled to Holloman AFB, N.M., where they visited friends they hadn't seen since their Okinawa assignment seven years ago. Capt. and Mrs. H. P. Wheeler.

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Robert Hansen just returned from a twelve day leave that was spent in Ft. Worth, Tex., with Mrs. Hansen's mother, Mrs. O. M. Gaddis. The Hansens' also spent a few days in Monterey, Mexico, and had a delightful time.

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Lamar Ledbetter had a wonderful Christmas. They traveled from LAFB on the 23rd to the Air Force Academy and spent the entire holiday with their son, Lamar Jr. who is a 4th Classman at the Academy. They returned to LAFB Wednesday evening.

Lt. Col. and Mrs. James Pumford returned to their quarters at LAFB on New Year's Day, after spending the holidays with the Colonel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milo Pumford in Chesaning, Mich., and with Mrs. Pumford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Leddy in Saginaw. While in Michigan the Pumfords motored to Wurtsmith AFB to visit Capt. and Mrs. Arthur Handel who were formerly stationed at LAFB for seven years.

Maj. and Mrs. Harland D. Williams were also gone over the holidays. They visited Mrs. Williams' parents Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Larson in Somers, Conn., and the Major's parents Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Williams in Starucca, Pa. Maj. Williams stated they could have had a much more enjoyable time if they hadn't been so worried about the weather on their return to LAFB.

Mrs. Henry G. Arnold and her three sons spent the New Year's weekend in Denver, Colo., visiting her family. While there, her oldest son, Gil, thoroughly enjoyed three days of skiing.

Maj. and Mrs. Keith Nystrom spent Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Nystrom in Aberdeen, S.D. They returned to host a gay New Year's Eve party at their Michael Terrace residence. Mrs. Nystrom was pleasantly surprised when her guests arrived with lovely gifts and a beautiful birthday cake. She has a New Year's Day birth date. Guests enjoying the affair were Lt. Col. and Mrs. Gerald Linscheid, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Russell Heller, Maj. and Mrs. Raymond J. Wagner, Maj. and Mrs. Dale Christians, Capt. and Mrs. Stanley States, Capt. and Mrs. William Schwob, Capt. and Mrs. Tom Sutton and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rent-schler.

Maj. and Mrs. John Mulkey held an open house for 26 old acquaintances Sunday. It was also a Happy Homecoming party for Maj. Mulkey as he had just returned from a Reflex assignment. The Mulkeys celebrated their 17th wedding anniversary yesterday. Belated... but... Happy Anniversary!

Capt. and Mrs. Walter Nickerson had Mrs. Nickerson's parents visiting them during the holidays. Mr. and Mrs. Carroll R. Herrick are from Hathaway Pines, Calif. Recent visitors at the residence of Maj. and Mrs. Donald Meade, were the Major's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Meade from Chippewa Falls, Wis.

Several couples initiated the New Year at Bolling Lodge. The party was a no host affair and all enjoyed a midnight breakfast. The festivities were enjoyed by Lt. Col. and Mrs. Edward Cadger, Lt. Col. and Mrs. George Miller, Maj. and Mrs. James Kilkelly, Maj. and Mrs. Pierre Pollard, Maj. and Mrs. John Mulkey, Maj. and Mrs. William Clements, Capt. and Mrs. B. A. Quam, Capt. and Mrs. Harold Hampton, Capt. and Mrs. Robert Jacobsen, Capt. and Mrs. John Terry, Capt. and Mrs. Ralph Paige, Mrs. Robert Hansen and Mrs. Bernad Johnson.

Topics to be discussed will include "Fight Against Pornographic Literature", "Narcotics", "The Law in Your Life", "Street and Highway Safety", and "Proper Street Lighting".

With only two per cent of the nation's communities having adequate street lighting, according to J. Edgar Hoover, the federation and Reader's Digest are co-sponsoring a lighting contest, details of which will be given by Miss Barnes.

Reservations for the meeting and noon luncheon at the Hotel Cornhusker must be made with Mrs. Roger Phipps, 1946 D, 432-3512.

Parents and sisters, Denise and Renee, plus several neighborhood friends providing the chickenpox doesn't interfere, that is.

It seems the "little spots" have taken their toll in the neighborhood, and every member of the small-fry set either has, had, or will soon have the chicken pox. It's easy to understand why the guest list will be very tentative even up to the party time!

Incidentally, we hear that Bryan's birthday cake is to be in the shape of a fish, but we're wondering if a chicken might not be more appropriate!

Marking a week's visit in Eastborough on Thursday was Mrs. Charles Porter who is spending some time with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Bridges.

Mrs. Porter, who is from Quincy, Ill., will be in Lincoln until the middle of next week.

Another visitor scheduled to leave Lincoln next week is Mrs. J. C. Mitchell who has been visiting her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Don Mitchell and Phillip and Neal, for the past two weeks.

Mrs. Mitchell will be returning to her home in Purcell, Okla., next weekend.

And while we're speaking of Oklahoma, we should tell you that Walter L. Johnston will be leaving for Stillwater tomorrow where he will be taking a new position and will begin househunting for a new residence for his family.

Mrs. Johnston and the children, Terri, Chris, and Patti, will remain in Lincoln for a few more weeks.

Visitors in Eastborough this week were former Lincoln residents Mr. and Mrs. Larry Lohmeier now of Wichita, Kan.

Mr. and Mrs. Lohmeier, who moved from Eastborough 10 months ago, visited several of their former neighbors while staying with Lincoln relatives.

Another birthday in Eastborough that has already been celebrated was that of Miss Kim Wiese, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Wiese. Kim celebrated her fifth anniversary with her brother, Mark, and neighborhood friends, Paul Myers, Tony Emmons, Ken Matthews, and Barbara Hembree.

Last Monday's party for Kim consisted of games, birthday cake, and all the rest of the birthday trimmings.

And bridge finally returns to the scene with a neighborhood party scheduled for next Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Harry Rust. Mrs. Rust will be entertaining the members of the group's regular bi-weekly bridge club, and bridge and dessert are on tap for her guests.

Those guests will be Mrs. Norbert Kampsnider, Mrs. Stanley Bird, Mrs. Beatrice Boughn, Mrs. Robert Bridges, Mrs. Robert Longman, Mrs. Joe Ritter, and Mrs. Stan Rodenberg.

FIENE HEIGHTS
Fiene Heights residents, Mr. and Mrs. Orville W. Hewitt, have had four young houseguests with them during the holiday season. Their guests last week were their granddaughters, Miss Janice Shurigar, Miss Barbara Shurigar, Miss Molly Bee Shurigar, the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Shurigar of Kenesaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt spent Christmas Day in Kenesaw, and after the family festivities, the four young ladies accompanied their grandparents to Lincoln. They returned to Kenesaw on Sunday.

Back in Lincoln on Monday after a weekend in Lawton, Iowa, with several former high school friends were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Moss. Mr. and Mrs. Moss went to Lawton on Saturday for the annual alumni banquet at the Lawton High School.

Returning this week to the U.S. Naval Training Center in San Diego, Calif., was Seaman Apprentice Roland Hinze, who had been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Hinze. Roland arrived in Lincoln on Christmas Eve, and visited his family for the December holidays.

Parents and sisters, Denise and Renee, plus several neighborhood friends providing the chickenpox doesn't interfere, that is.

It seems the "little spots" have taken their toll in the neighborhood, and every member of the small-fry set either has, had, or will soon have the chicken pox. It's easy to understand why the guest list will be very tentative even up to the party time!

Had Church Wedding

The wedding of Miss Susan Clement, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Clement, and Pfc. William J. S. Hamilton, USA, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hamilton of Methuen, Mass., took place on Saturday, Dec. 29. The service was solemnized at high noon at St. Thomas Aquinas Church on the University of Nebraska campus.

Miss Linda Hughes was the maid of honor, and the bridesmaid was Miss Sharon Keine. The attendants wore pink frocks in the after-five length and carried nosegays of white carnations.

Serving as best man was Joseph A. Hamilton, and seating the guests was Marvin Keine.

The bride appeared in a gown of white lace over silk. The long-sleeved bodice was designed with a sabrina neckline edged with natural scallops of the lace and traced with seed pearls and sequins, and the bouffant skirt was draped with clusters of fabric roses and continued into a chapel train. A pearl tiara held her veil of lace and illusion, and she carried an arrangement of red roses.

It Seems To Me Learn While Young

Patricia Scott

Sewing can be great fun, and learning when you're young is the easiest way. Little girls are content to start out making items such as a needle and pin case. This allows them to practice and at the same time make a gift for a friend. This case is a perfect project for a child. It teaches her the running stitch, how to sew on buttons or sequins, and, how to follow a simple pattern and instructions.

You'll Need: one piece of light blue felt 9" x 5"; one piece of black felt 6" x 8"; 8 buttons or sequins in assorted sizes; light blue 6-strand embroidery floss.

To Make:

1. Following the diagram, make a paper pattern for the black felt inside cover, stems, leaves and flower pot. The cover measures 4" x 8 1/2". The remaining strip that measures 1 1/2" x 8 1/2" will be for the other trimmings. Mark three strips each 3/8" x 2 1/2" and four strips 3/8" x 1 1/2" for the seven stems. The flower pot is 2 1/2 inches across the top, with the base and sides each measuring 1 1/2 inch. Cut two leaves from remaining felt. Cut pattern; pin to black felt and cut out.

2. Fold light blue felt pieces in half and press. This is the outside cover.

3. The flower pot arrangement comes next. On the front side of the outside cover, pin on one long stem, right in the center and 2 inches from bottom edge. Sew on with running stitch, using two strands of embroidery floss. Pin the other two at the bottom and spread them out at the top, 1 1/4 inches apart. Sew on as you did the first. Take the four short stems and sew one between each long stem and one at each end as shown in figure A.

4. At the top of each stem, sew on a button or sequin, with the last one attached between the second and third stems from the left. Center the pot with top edge covering the bottom of stems. Sew on with running stitches, sewing around the sides and the bottom of pot, 1/4 inch from the edge.

5. Fold black felt piece in half and press. Open it and mark a chalk line down the crease on the inside. Place the black cover inside the blue cover, with even margins all around. Sew through both floss, using chalk line as stitching guide (see figure B).

6. Tack leaves to center stem, catching a little of the inside black cover with your stitch. Each leaf will require one or two running stitches in the center.

Miss Scott is always glad to hear from her readers, and whenever possible will use their questions in her column, but because of the great volume of mail received daily, she cannot answer individual letters.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I am writing this on my 17th birthday. My date just brought me home in a huff, telling me how "immature" I am because I wouldn't make out with him. This was our first date and I thought a lot of him. I have the reputation for being cold, stuck up and even square. But I won't lower my standards just to get dates. I have no trouble getting the first date, but when I don't make out right away they don't call me again. Am I wrong? Maybe I am immature.

SEVENTEEN AND SAD
DEAR SEVENTEEN: You are mature — the BOYS are immature! Keep your standards high, honey. You might be sad at the moment, but you'll be happier in the long run. And mature young men still appreciate quality.

DEAR ABBY: Can any of your Italian readers help me? I went to an Italian movie and the word "chow" was used quite a bit at the end of telephone conversations and when people were departing from each other. Several Italian girls have told me it meant "good-bye," but one of my Italian co-workers said it was a low-brow slang expression which was not considered "nice" in Italian. Just what does "chow" mean? And is it Italian?

BOSTON BELLE
DEAR BELLE: "Chow" is the familiar "good-bye" in Italian. And although it is a slang expression it is used by Italians—high-born and low!

Opening lead — six of clubs.

It is quite easy to make a mistake in defense in certain hands unless you are very much on your toes. Mechanical plays work out well in some deals, but they are bound to take their toll from time to time in others.

Look at this hand where the defense slipped. West led a club, taken in dummy with the king. Declarer played a spade, East followed low, and South won with the king. Declarer then cashed the ace of clubs, discarding a heart from dummy, and ruffed a club.

He next played a heart, which West took with the queen, but there was nothing West could then do to defeat the contract. So South made four spades, losing a spade, a heart and a diamond in the process.

Now it is perfectly true that in most hands East should play low with the A-4 when a spade is led from dummy. This follows the general principle that second hand (on defense) usually plays low.

However, in this case, East should have gone up with the ace. He should have realized that South had the ace of clubs (aces are seldom underled against suit contracts) and that declarer could win the spade and discard a heart from dummy on the ace of clubs. (In fact, it was even possible for South to have had the A-Q of clubs and discard two hearts from dummy).

If East had taken the spade ace at once and returned a heart, the contract would have been defeated. Declarer would have lost a diamond to go down one.

It is possible that East hoped his partner had the Q-x of spades and that declarer might finesse the jack but this was a farfetched hope. The specter of the ace of clubs in South's hand, and possibly the queen also, should have driven East to go up with the ace of spades immediately.

He had a far better chance of stopping the contract by attacking hearts than by playing possum.

Zorin Claims U.S. Seeks To Dominate

New York (AP) — Valerian A. Zorin, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister, left for Moscow Friday, with a parting charge that the United States is pursuing a domineering course in the world.

"Everywhere the United States tries to impose its will, whether in Asia, Africa or Latin America," he said in a shipboard news conference before sailing aboard the British liner Queen Mary.

Zorin has served since September 1960 as head of Russia's delegation to the United Nations. He will be assigned a new job by his government when he returns home.

His successor, Nikolai T. Fedorenko, 40, was due here later Friday on a flight from Moscow.

About 40 officials of the Soviet Union and satellite countries were on hand to bid Zorin farewell, and to drink champagne toasts to him and his wife, Maria.

Asked if he felt the world was any closer to peaceful relations between east and west than when he assumed his U.N. post 27 months ago, he said:

"That all depends on the position of the major powers — mainly the United States. If the United States strictly adheres to provisions of the United Nations Charter and a policy of peaceful coexistence as the Soviet Union does, then peace will be secured."

Del G. Eno Is Kiwanian Of Year 1962

Supermarket manager Del G. Eno of 2949 Plymouth Friday was named Kiwanian of the year for 1962.

Eno has served as chairman of the boys and girls activities committee for two years and has been a member of the Lincoln civic group since 1958.

He received the award from retiring president Noel L. Smith. Smith was succeeded by Glenn E. Turner.

Other officers installed by Edwin J. Rogers, lieutenant governor of Kiwanis International include John H. Graf, vice president, and Bruce L. Sievers, secretary-treasurer.

Committee chairmen also inducted for service in 1963 are:

Howey's Grill Hit By Hungry Breaker

Police Friday said someone broke into Howey's Grill at 616 South and took an undetermined quantity of canned goods, coffee, cigars, cigars, candy and jelly.

Officers said the intruder forced the rear door of the building, apparently by the use of a iron bar.

LIFE

...what is it? Here, it is represented in the newborn. Generally speaking, "it is a vapor that appears for a little while and then is gone," James 4:14. Life from birth to seventy seems a very long time. But brother, reverse the sentence and take a look...seventy back to birth is so very short. Anyhow, the value of a life is determined by how well it is lived and not by how long it is. Every worthwhile life consumes its self serving others...administering to the sick, giving to the poor and challenging them to prepare for the Life Eternal. The good life is full of little deeds made meaningful by a few Godly decisions. Then attend worship services regularly.

Scribes Want Field Decisions Left Up To Quarterbacks

New York (AP) — College football's so-called wild card rule, which permits a coach to send in a single player between downs without being charged with an entry, is opposed by a majority of the nation's sports writers and broadcasters.

The principal objection is that it allows coaches to send in plays and takes much of the blame away from the players.

However, the opinions expressed in the annual Associated Press survey of the football season split 60-40 on the question. Those in the minority said coaches were going to find some way to get instructions into the huddle anyway, but a return to the free substitution rule was an alternative. Many others thought that it publicly showed up the coaches themselves as poor quarterbacks.

Views Sought

Views were sought on this subject: "Some coaches are using the wild card rule, originally passed to give teams a chance to substitute for their specialists, as means of sending in a new play after every formation."

"Stop it," said Bob Williams of the Liberal, Kan., Southwest Daily Times. "Either open the rule for free substitution or tighten it to stop sideline coaching. I want to see what the teams can do on their own rather than being puppets for coaches."

On the other hand, Hap Halbrooks of the Florence, Ala., Times said: "A coach is paid to win football games. He should be the one to make the big decisions, and I think the use of the wild card to carry in plays is fine and leads to a more exciting and better quarterbacked game."

Other comments included: Rich Roberts, San Pedro, Calif., News-Pilot: "No school ever fired a quarterback for calling the wrong play."

Walt Gamage, Palo Alto, Calif., Times: "Let's face it. This is a rule that gives coaches a means for sending in plays via messengers."

Mitch Rukavina, Fremont, Neb., Guide & Tribune: "Some of the dumbest plays in football are called by the coaches. Why take them out of their misery?"

Leslie Whitely, Denton, Tex., Record-Chronicle: "Without the ability to send in an entire team at a time—offense or defense—this is the only way a coach can remedy weak players. It is acceptable until a return of free substitution."

Paul Zimmerman, Los Angeles Times: "Why not have the coaches call the plays? Most of them signaled before. This puts the responsibility for bad play calling on the coach and takes it away from the underdog. Make the coaches sit in the stands and let the team and student manager run the team if purity is the desire. Go all the way."

Bill Van Fleet, Fort Worth Star-Telegram: "Either it should be made legal to send in plays from the sideline, or the practice should be abandoned."

Rolf Stormberg, Seattle Post-Intelligencer: "Ridiculous! All that proves is that in the two hours of the game they're trying to correct the errors they've installed in 5 days of practice."

Ken Van Sickle, Ithaca, N.Y., Journal: "Coaches will call the plays one way or another. It is just a matter of ethics."

Gus Schrader, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Gazette: "This is one reason I would like to see the free sub rule brought back. We have all the drawbacks of free sub without all the advantages."

Phil Norman, San Francisco Examiner: "I think the coaches should be barred from calling plays.

It cramps a boy's incentive and retards opportunity to gain individuality."

Bill Kreifeldt, Mt. Pleasant, Mich., Daily Times-News: "When coaches think they have to do that (call every play) then winning is either too important or the coach is a frustrated quarterback."

Oliver Kuechle, Milwaukee Journal: "Why not? If a coach doesn't do it this way, he will do it another perhaps with semaphores on the sidelines. And why not call the plays from the bench and be honest about it? A coach works too hard all week to have a few dumb calls by a quarterback spoil his job."

Chuck Garrity, Denver Post: "Let coaches do what they want. From won and lost records of coaches who attempt to call every play, it's evident the 18-year-old youngsters (quarterbacks) can do the job as well."

Howard Kleinberg, Miami News: "The old adage of college football was to build character in the athlete. No one's character can be built if someone on the sidelines makes all his decisions for him."

Henry Jurras, Barre, Vt., Times-Arrow: "If the coach wants to Paul Brown every play, let him. When he makes a mistake, he has to face the alumnus. His quarterback doesn't."

Mal Elliott, Tulsa Tribune: "I think coaches should call the plays if they deem it necessary. The coach or the quarterback should be allowed to call the game, whichever will provide the highest caliber of football for the fans. There is too much at stake to allow the outcome of a game to rest in the hands of an inexperienced or incapable quarterback"

Scandal Rumors Sweep Pro Loop

... REQUESTED BY HALAS

By OSCAR FRALEY

Hollywood Beach, Fla. (UPI) — The National Football League, which has been without scandal for the past 16 years, admitted Friday that some members of the Chicago Bears and players of "3 or 4 other" league teams have "associated with undesirable types."

But league commissioner Pete Rozelle insisted that an investigation by the league's staff of 16 former FBI agents has turned up nothing of "a criminal nature."

"We haven't found any fire," said Rozelle. "But anytime we see any smoke we look fast."

Rozelle disclosed the investigation after George Halas, owner of the Bears, revealed in Chicago that the commissioner was looking into reports of a possible scandal involving a number of teams during the last two years.

Halas Told

"I told Halas that our investigations in the commissioner's office had turned up the fact that some of the Bear personnel had been associated with undesirable types," Rozelle said.

"There were a couple of things involving the Bears and I told Halas about them," the commissioner said. "I do not feel that this is any more urgent than any of the cases we have had in the past."

the names of other teams involved in the rumors.

"We have proved nothing, except questionable association by some players, and when these are found, we notify the club and the players involved and in each instance the situation has been corrected," he said.

Change In Odds

It was well known in pro football that when the late Bert Bell, Rozelle's predecessor, was commissioner Bell frequently received rumor directly from bookmakers concerning unusual changes in betting odds on games.

There were reports of unusual odds activity early in the 1962 season when the Green Bay Packers defeated the Detroit Lions by less than the betting "point spread" and then defeated Minnesota by well over the "point spread."

Bookmakers in New York and Boston refused to accept bets on subsequent Green Bay games.

The league has not been touched by public scandal since 1946, when players Frank Filchock and Merle Hapes of the New York Giants were revealed to have received offers of $2,500 each, plus a $1,000 bet on the game, to control the spread of points in the championship game against the Bears.

Both Suspended

Hapes was not allowed to play in the game but Filchock played and threw two touchdown passes even though the Giants lost, 24-14. Both players later were suspended by the league. Filchock was reinstated 4 years later.

Rozelle blamed the fact that some players had been found to be associating with "undesirable types" on their "not being knowledgeable" about the character of chance acquaintances.

Southeast Faces State's No. 3 Quintet Tonight

Southeast's basketball team returns from a holiday layoff tonight against the 3rd-ranked team in the state.

Omaha Central's Eagles will appear at the SE gym for the 8 p.m. varsity game.

Central has won 4 games and lost 3—all losses to the top two teams in the ratings. Southeast, a big underdog, will seek its 3rd win in 5 outings. A SE letterman's reunion follows the game.

AAU Dealt Damaging Blow By College Group

Los Angeles (AP) — The influential Eastern College Athletic Conference, representing more than 130 colleges and universities, dealt a damaging blow to the AAU's sanctioned indoor track season Friday.

In a letter from Commissioner Asa Bushnell, mailed to member schools by the conference office in New York, and disclosed here at the National Collegiate Athletic Association convention, the ECAC strongly urged its members not to compete in the meets unless they are sanctioned by the U.S. Track and Field Federation.

Chick Werner, president of the federation, said none of the big Eastern indoor meets has sought federation sanction. The recommendation, labeled a threatened boycott by the AAU, involves all of the major track powers of the East who traditionally have competed in and furnished many of the top performers in the indoor season—including Villanova, Manhattan, New York University and all the Ivy League schools.

Legislation Proposed

It comes on the heels of proposed legislation expected to be adopted by the NCAA membership next Wednesday that would knock a collegian out of the NCAA Track and Field Championships for one year if he competes in an event not sanctioned by the NCAA-backed Federation.

The general feeling is that few, if any, of the schools will fail to go along with the ECAC stand, although several coaches, including Jim Elliott of Villanova have indicated they would like to enter the indoor meets regardless of who sanctions them.

The pair of actions probably will limit the field and indoor meets like the Millrose Games, New York Athletic Club Games, Boston and New York Knights of Columbus Games, Philadelphia Inquirer

Games and the National AAU championships to post-graduate and unattached athletes.

Direct Effect

They will have a direct effect on the U.S. track team for the Pan-American Games in Brazil in April since performance in the indoor meets is to count heavily toward the makeup of the squad.

Bushnell, here for the NCAA meetings which opened Friday, said the letter was sent when the "AAU failed to

AAU Suspends Top Half Miler

New York (AP) — Jim Dupree of Southern Illinois University, one of the United States' top half milers, was suspended by the Amateur Athletic Union Friday for competing in a track meet sanctioned by the United States Track and Field Federation.

Among other things, the suspension makes Dupree ineligible for the Eastern indoor track season, which starts in Boston Jan. 12. Length of the suspension was not specified in a prepared release by the AAU.

The suspension, announced by AAU executive director Col. Don Hull, was caused by Dupree competing in the USTFF track meet in Knoxville, Tenn., Oct. 28.

Pius X Suffers First Cage Setback, 64-54

Omaha — Lincoln Pius X suffered its first basketball defeat at the hands of Class B power Omaha Holy Name, 64-54, here Friday night.

Holy Name, ranked second in the state, jumped off to a enter into a firm agreement" by the Jan. 1 deadline set by the ECAC for an arbitration agreement with the track federation.

The AAU, responding to an appeal by President Kennedy directed at both warring camps, agreed to talks with the NCAA but not with the federation, which it considers a puppet organization of the college association.

Federation Accepts

The federation has accepted the President's suggestion, but the NCAA has refused to negotiate individually.

Earlier this week, Werner said the federation was ready to sanction the indoor track meets whenever it was asked.

"They are perfectly legitimate meets and we would be perfectly happy to sanction them," he said. "But we aren't going to beg them and they apparently don't want to risk the AAU withdrawing its sanction."

The ECAC announcement shadowed other activity at the first day of the week-long convention which is conducted concurrently with meetings of the nation's football, baseball and track coaches. The rules committee of the Baseball Coaches' Association and the NCAA Television Committees held their first sessions but neither will release its report until later in the convention.

19-12 first-quarter lead and was never headed. It was the Omaha school's 5th victory without a loss.

The Thunderbolts are now 3-1 for the year and face another stiff foe when Sioux City Heelan invades the Pius gym on January 12.

Gordon Brown, a 5-10 senior guard was the sparkplug of the Holy Name attack. Getting the majority of his buckets off the fast break, Brown tossed in 10 and added 3 free throws for 23 points.

Tom McGovern's 12 points was the top effort for Pius. The Thunderbolts trailed by only 4 points, 40-36 at the end of the 3rd quarter, but a 24-point production by Holy Name in the last period put the game on ice for the Omahans.

Neither team was spectacular at the free throw line. Holy Name hit on 18 of 31; the Thunderbolts could manage just 16 for 29.

—NWU SEEKS 10TH WIN— Simpson '5' Visits Plainsmen Tonight

Nebraska Wesleyan risks its 5 game winning streak tonight when it plays host to Simpson, Iowa, College.

Also on the line is the host Plainsmen's 20-game home court victory skein. Wesleyan will be seeking its 10th victory of the season. Game Time at Ira J. Taylor gymnasium is 7:30 p.m.

Latest Plainsman success was an easy 85-62 verdict over Ottawa, Kan., University Dec. 28.

High Average

Wesleyan goes into Saturday's game averaging 89.5 points a game. It has been over the 100-point mark 3 times this season.

Simpson scored an 88-61 win over Peru, Neb., State Teachers College earlier this season. The game was played on the Iowans' home court.

The Plainsmen tamed Ottawa despite the Kansans' slow-down tactics. Trailing 4-0, Wesleyan countered and used its fast break and zone press to post a 40-26 halftime advantage.

Vacation Doldrums

Cold shooting and the after-effects of the Christmas vacation layoff, showed its mark on the flashy Plainsmen. Wesleyan used its fast break 10 times for buckets and snatched up the ball for 4 steals to add to the rout.

Ottawa had a 4-4 record going into the game against Wesleyan.

Saturday's home tilt against Simpson will be followed a week later by a contest against St. Mary of the Plains, Kan. This contest is set for Jan. 12.

The Plainsmen then take to the road for 3 straight battles—at Doane Jan. 15, at Midland Jan. 18, and at Morningside of Sioux City, Iowa on Jan. 26.

Littler Leads In 1st Round Of LA Open

... PALMER, NICKLAUS TRAIL

Los Angeles (AP) — Methodical Gene Littler carved out an eagle, 5 birdies, and a lone bogey Friday to lead the way through the first round of the $50,000 Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament with a 6-under-par 65.

The 32-year-old ex-National Open champion, who won this event in 1955, toured the 7,100-yard Rancho Park course under bright skies in 36-29-65. His 29 established a tournament record for the back 9 holes.

With typical Littler modesty, he admitted:

"Sure, I was lucky. But you have to be lucky to shoot a 29."

Not quite so lucky were other stars of the tournament. Arnold Palmer, famous for all the money, the Masters and the British Open — which he won in 1962 — shot a 35-34-69. He missed at least 5 putts for birdies.

United States Open champion Jack Nicklaus had a 34-37-71, and could grieve over a triple-bogey 7 which he took on No. 11 when his ball became involved with a fence bordering the fairways.

The American PGA champion, Gary Player, also had a 71, shooting even par figures.

Bacon Paces Hastings By Midland '5'

Fremont (AP)—Hot second-half shooting by Charles Bacon pulled Hastings to a 62-56 victory over Midland in a non-conference basketball game Friday night.

Bacon canned 14 of his 19 points in the second half. His two baskets with 14 minutes to play moved Hastings into a tie and sent the Broncos out in front to stay.

Hastings held a 27-26 lead at the half but the lead sawed the first 6 minutes. Midland stayed close throughout, and with 3:50 to go trailed only 55-54, then the visitors padded their margin.

Bacon was high for Hastings and Jim Perry paced Midland with 15.

Rocket Grapplers Thump Fremont

Lincoln Northeast avenged an earlier loss to Fremont and handed the Tiger grapplers a 28-18 whipping Friday afternoon with a 46-second pin by Northeast's Ralph Garcia highlighting the action.

Garcia pinned Fremont's Dick Wittmann in their 103-pound match. The Rockets are now 4-1 with a date at Boys Town coming up next Friday.

Results:

55-Dwain Westerholt (F) pinned Ron Barzelle in 5:41; 103-Ralph Garcia (NE) pinned Dick Wittmann in 46; 112-Bob Edwards (NE) pinned Doug Koyanagi in 5:32; 120-Jim Ragon (NE) dec. Dave Anderson, 5-2; 127-Doug Gemmell (NE) drew with Roger Wittmann, 8-8; 135-Russell Blank (NE) dec. Carroll Huff, 10-1; 138-Tommy Latham dec. Chris Boshke, 2-2; 145-Dave Lallman (F) dec. Wesley Loois, 3-2; 154-Dale Huff (F) dec. Clark Lewis, 10-0; 165-Tim Duvel (NE) pinned Larry Gordon in 5:11; 180-Ron Rhoda (F) dec. George Manske, 7-0; 190-Lester King (NE) drew with Tom Olson, 2-2.

David City Tumbles Ashland By 63-42

David City — David City kept its Platte Valley Conference mark unblemished here Friday night by defeating Ashland, 63-42.

David City is 2-0 in loop play and 4-1 for the season.

DENNY MOYER FACES ARCHER IN TV BATTLE

New York (AP)—Denny Moyer, the WBA's junior middleweight champion, and sharp-punching Joey Archer of New York, clash tonight in a 10-round match of fine boxers at Madison Square Garden.

The non-title bout will be telecast nationally ABC-TV, 9 p.m., CST.

Moyer, of Portland, Ore., will not risk his recently acquired junior crown because the fighters will weigh in over the 154-pound limit.

The 23-year-old Oregonian has a 33-8 record, including 8 knockouts. Archer, 25, has a 32-1 record, including 7 knockouts. The handsome New Yorker is ranked as the No. 7 middleweight contender by the WBA.

Four Sooner Coaches On Buffs' Roster

Boulder, Colo. (AP)—When spring football practice opens at Colorado come March, the Buffaloes will have exactly half of the Oklahoma coaching staff on their side.

Eddie Crowder, the newly appointed head coach, verified Friday earlier reports that he will bring with him 3 assistant coaches from the Sooners staff.

They are Jay O'Neal, 27, former fullback and quarterback for the Sooners; Rudy Feldman, 30, a former guard at UCLA; and Chet Franklin, 27, who played guard at Utah.

Crowder is a former quarterback star for Oklahoma and has been a backfield coach for 7 seasons under Sooners Coach Bud Wilkinson.

Crowder has been given a 5-year contract at $15,000 a year for the task of improving Colorado's football fortunes after the disastrous 2-8 season last fall.

Pierce, Holdrege In Tourney Finals

Minden — Pierce and Holdrege advanced to the finals in the south-half of the Southwest Conference Tournament here Friday night.

Pierce raced to a 57-27 victory over Curtis in the opener of the 4-team meet, and Holdrege downed Minden, 52-44.

Curtis was unable to score in double figures in any quarter except the 4th as Pierce raced to an easy victory. Bob Brand led Pierce with 10 and Fred Roubeshub had 6 for Curtis.

Minden held a 7 point lead at half, but the Holdrege Dusters staged a second half comeback to pull out the victory. Arlen Westergren potted 24 for Holdrege and Larry Wilcox totaled 21 for the losers.

Pierce 18 15 12 12-57
Curtis 7 4 8 11-27
Winners high: Bob Brand 10, losers high: Fred Roubeshub 6.
Holdrege 16 12 14 12-52

FREMONT NIPS BEATRICE IN 61-60 CONTEST

Beatrice — Last-minute strategy by Beatrice went awry here Friday night as Fremont edged the Orangemen, 61-60, for its 4th win of the campaign against two losses.

The game was tied 12 times and with Fremont holding a 59-58 edge Beatrice began a waiting game with 1:26 left. The Orangemen controlled the ball, waiting for the last shot, but an attempted pass into the pivot was pirated.

Beatrice fouled Fremont's Mike Draemel with 6 seconds left and he sunk both free throws to give the Tigers a 61-60 margin.

The losers came back to make it 61-60 as the final buzzer sounded. Draemel led all scorers with 22 and Wayne Riecker paced Beatrice with 20.

Fremont 20 15 10 16-61
Beatrice 18 14 15 11-60
Winners high: Mike Draemel, 22; losers high: Wayne Riecker, 20.

CARLSON NETS NOVAK TROPHY

The Tom Novak Trophy, annually awarded to the outstanding senior football player at the University of Nebraska as judged by the sportswriters who follow the Cornhuskers, went this year to Dwain Carlson.

The Novak award was established in 1950 by J. Gordon Roberts of Omaha.

Carlson, a native of Central City, played high school football as a halfback at Fullerton. He was co-captain of the 1962 Cornhuskers. Offensively he was a guard and defensively a linebacker.

Carlson was a 12-letter winner in high school with 3 each in football, basketball, track and baseball.

Blair Wins, 56-41, Over Plattsmouth

Plattsmouth — Blair took a 12-point halftime lead but had to stave off a Plattsmouth rally to gain a 56-41 win here Friday night.

Plattsmouth cut Blair's half-time lead to 7 at the 3rd quarter mark, but the visitors erupted with 18 in the last period to sew up the victory.

Steve Russell was game high with 19 for Blair. Roger Lanum tallied 14 for Plattsmouth.

Plattsmouth cut Blair's half-time lead to 7 at the 3rd quarter mark, but the visitors erupted with 18 in the last period to sew up the victory.

Steve Russell was game high with 19 for Blair. Roger Lanum tallied 14 for Plattsmouth.

CWA Defeats Hoffa's Union

... AT WESTERN ELECTRIC

Washington (UPI) — The Teamsters Union was defeated Friday by a 3 to 1 margin in a showdown election with the Communications Workers of America (CWA) to represent 17,000 Western Electric employees.

The National Labor Relations Board said the CWA won 11,388 votes. The Teamsters 4,000.

CWA President Joseph A. Beirne said the vote showed the Western Electric installers "repudiated the raiding effort of the Teamsters Union under the dubious leadership of James R. Hoffa."

Vote Counted

The votes were counted in New York Friday. Six hundred and 96 employees did not vote for either union. One hundred and 15 of the votes were void, and 5 challenged. The National Labor Relations Board ordered the election when the Teamsters Union presented petitions showing it had the required show of interest signatures of Western Electric workers who wanted to be represented by the trucking union.

The election climaxed an almost year-long campaign by the Teamsters to take over bargaining rights from the CWA.

Shows Confidence

Beirne said the tally was a show of confidence in the CWA despite the "heavy propaganda" from the Teamsters.

He said the victory would allow the CWA to "proceed to collective bargaining negotiations with the company to seek the improved conditions which the Western Electric employees need and deserve."

Western Electric officials have gone on record as opposing any Teamsters representation of its employees.

The Teamster attempt to replace the CWA as bargaining agent for the Western Electric installers across the country was James R. Hoffa's most ambitious "raid" into the AFL-CIO territory since his union was expelled from the AFL-CIO in 1957 on corruption charges.

The AFL-CIO had backed the CWA in the fight. It was feared that if Hoffa made inroads into the CWA it would give him a foothold for further expansion.

Telstar Back On Job Cured Of 'Brain Fever'

New York, (AP) — Telstar, the ocean-hurdling television satellite, was back on the job Friday, cured of a kind of brain fever brought on by radiation.

An ingenious electronic "aspirin" turned the trick after Telstar had been ailing for 6 weeks. Telstar even seemed to supply an eager assist.

Friday morning, the satellite relayed television programs across the Atlantic as sharply as ever, and the public can expect a resumption of live programs between the United States and Europe.

Refused Commands

Since Nov. 23, Telstar had refused to accept command signals to turn on power to relay radio, television and other transmissions.

There it wheeled, 592 to 3,501 miles above the earth — forlornly out of reach.

Brilliant scientific diagnosis and repair of the trouble was described by Bell Telephone Laboratories engineers in the highlight of Friday's 11-minute television program between New York, France and Britain.

And, as a British engineer remarked, it was "a wonderful achievement, in some respects more wonderful than the original launching."

Encouraging

In another encouraging development, the Relay satellite — plagued by power problems since it went up in mid-December — made a successful transatlantic test, sending a bright, clear signal from Maine to France.

Telstar had run into radiation in the Van Allen Belts 100 times more intense than expected, W. C. Hittinger of Bell Labs explained.

Experts said they did not know how much of this came from artificial belts created by the U.S. high-altitude nuclear blast over the Pacific in July.

Anyhow, they figured radiation was giving Telstar the brain fever.

Red Dean Of Canterbury Resigns His Anglican Post

London (AP) — The Red Dean of Canterbury, long a leftist thorn in the side of the Anglican Church, came through Friday with what fellow churchmen have often called for — his resignation.

The very Rev. Dr. Hewlett Johnson, 89 this month, announced his departure from the mother cathedral of the Church of England with these words:

"After having informed the archbishop, I have handed my resignation as Dean of Canterbury to the crown, by whom it has been accepted."

His wife told the Associated Press he intends to spend his time speaking, traveling and completing his half-finished autobiography. She added that the resignation takes effect May 31, and the dean is in perfect health.

She said she, the dean and their two daughters will continue to live in Canterbury.

With his long white hair, pink complexion and ecclesiastical gaiters, the dean has been a flamboyant figure at communist-sponsored peace rallies from Peking to New York.

In 1952 he set off an uproar by visiting the communist side in the Korean War and accusing the Americans of germ warfare — a charge later abandoned by the communists.

Both houses of Parliament debated his Korea activities. Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, then Archbishop of Canterbury, said in the House of Lords that the dean had abused his office.

Members of all sides and many churchmen called for his resignation. But the dean, appointed to Canterbury in 1931 on the recommendation of a Laborite government, held fast.

He said he would never resign while his health was good. He held the job for life and could not be removed.

Since his health still is good the reason for his resignation is somewhat unclear. Mrs. Johnson would only say he thought this the right time to resign and the dean himself was for once not talking.

Budget Hearings Begin Next Week

The Legislature's Budget Committee will begin public hearings Monday on the budget requests of state agencies for the 1963-65 biennium.

Four agencies are slated for hearings Monday: Fire Marshal's Office; Department of Veterans' Affairs; State Racing Commission, and the Motor Vehicle Dealers Licensing Board.

Five agencies are scheduled Tuesday: Workmen's Compensation Court; Nursing Board; Athletic Commission; State Library Commission; and the Architects and Engineers Examining Board.

The hearings are to begin at 1:30.

The 8-member Budget Committee will meet informally with the State Fair Board Wednesday afternoon and visit the State Fair Grounds.

For the balance of next week and the beginning of the following week, the committee will confer with representatives of several management consultant and accounting firms on proposed studies of the state's accounting system, data processing methods, and a personnel classification and salary schedule.

Bill Would Ban Nebraska Bank Hold Companies

A bill prohibiting the development of bank holding companies in Nebraska was introduced Friday in the state Legislature.

Sens. H. L. Gerhart of Newman Grove, Harold Stryker of Rising City and W. H. Hasebroock of West Point brought in the measure, LB59.

Under definitions in the bill, a bank holding company would be one directly or indirectly owning or controlling 25% or more of the voting shares in each of two or more banks, or controlling the election of the majority of directors in two or more banks.

"It shall be unlawful for any action to be taken hereafter which results in a company becoming a bank holding company as defined in this act, and it shall be un-

Teen License Lift Readied

Nebraska's Legislature will be asked to pass a law calling for mandatory suspension on first offense of the licenses of teen-age drivers involved in such moving traffic violations as speeding, reckless driving or failure to observe traffic and stop signs.

Sen. LeRoy Bahensky of St. Paul reported Friday he is readying such a measure.

"It's time to make teen-agers recognize that they are responsible for their driving actions, not somebody else," said Bahensky.

Take Responsibility
"Let them assume their own responsibility."

Under terms of the proposed bill, a youth violating a traffic law for the first time would have his license suspended for 30 days.

A second conviction would bring an automatic 6-month suspension.

On a third offense, the youth would lose his license until he reaches the age of 21.

Bahensky said, "I can't see any other answer to the problem."

He Will Oppose
He said he will oppose such things as state aid for driver education or the hiring of additional Nebraska Safety Patrolmen.

"You can't legislate careful drivers," he said.

"Among some youngsters there seems to be a challenge to get out and speed and expose themselves and others to danger," he said.

Bahensky said his own family won't be exempt from the terms of his proposal.

"I have a teen-age daughter myself, and she will be driving in a short time."

Senators OK Ruhnke, Erlewine Post Switch

Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth Friday received unanimous consent to switch a committee assignment with Sen. Dale Erlewine of Grant.

Ruhnke moves to the Education Committee, and Erlewine takes his post on the Revenue Committee.

Legislature Sets Easter Vacation

Some 3 months ahead of time, the Nebraska Legislature set dates Friday for its Easter vacation.

The vacation will begin with adjournment on Thursday, April 11, and end at 10 a.m. Wednesday, April 17.

Because several of the senators have children in Lincoln schools, the lawmaking vacation was geared to coincide approximately with the Lincoln school system's Easter recess.

McCook Highway Route Stays Same

There will be no change in the location of U. S. 6-34 through McCook, Gov. Frank Morrison said Friday.

The highway through the city is scheduled to be widened, but there had been some talk of rerouting the road around McCook.

But the McCook City Council, the McCook Chamber of Commerce and the Nebraska Highway Advisory Commission all unanimously recommended it stay where it is.

A group from McCook met with Morrison earlier this week to reaffirm support for the present location.

Morrison said he told them it would be arbitrary for him to change the route in face of the unanimous recommendation to the contrary by the city, the local chamber and the Highway Commission.
